

Privacy Policy

At Builder Inspection, we are committed to protecting your privacy. We collect personal information such as your name, contact details, and property address solely for the purpose of conducting inspections and communicating with you. Your data is stored securely and is never shared with third parties unless required by law. By using our website or services, you consent to this policy.